Get Well Soon wishes to you both.

Last Week's Guest Speaker

Fran Lerner - 4th July

Fran grew up in Connecticut, USA and having married an Australian and lived in Australia for 38 years, calls herself a 'YAS' (Yank-Aussie).

Fran described her life as a child around the 4th of July each year and described the historical events which lead to Independence being announced on 4 July 1776.

Mentioned were:

Boston Tea Party, the revolution which continued to 1783, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, the purchase of Louisiana to get rid of the French.

.... and what it was like to be a child celebrating 4th July Independence Day during the 1940's and 1950's. Because the 4 July public holiday is on the actual day and it is not always a long weekend, celebrations were community or family get-together events with fireworks.

Often in the New England area a New England Clam Bake (similar to a NZ hangi) was prepared.

Ingredients (serves 4)

- 20g butter
- 1 large onion, finely chopped
- 2 large potatoes, diced
- 225g diced bacon or smoked bacon ribs
- 2 cups (500ml) milk
- 1 cup (250ml) chicken stock
- 1 cup (250ml) cream
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 200g can clams, drained
- 2 tbs chopped fresh parsley
- Freshly ground black pepper

Method

1. Melt butter in a large pan over medium heat. Add onion and cook until soft.
2. Add potatoes and bacon or ribs. The bones will add extra flavour.
3. Cook, stirring over low heat for about 30 minutes until golden.
4. Stir in milk, stock, cream, garlic and clams. Simmer gently for 10 minutes. Stir in parsley. Season with pepper.
5. Serve.

Notes

You can use fresh clams if available. You will need about 500g.

Rinse well to remove any excess sand and grit. Use reduced fat milk and cream if preferred.

FIREHOUSE CLAM BAKE NEW ENGLAND STYLE

Ingredients

- 20 small (1 pound) lobsters
 - 20 pounds clams in shell, scrubbed
 - 10 pounds mussels, cleaned and debearded
 - 10 pounds cod
 - 20 white potatoes
 - 20 sweet potatoes
 - 20 ears fresh corn
 - 5 pounds bratwurst
 - 5 pounds hot dogs
 - 5 pounds pork sausage
 - 3 pounds sweet onions
1. At the beach dig a hole in the sand with the approximate proportions: width = 2 feet, length = 4 feet, depth = 1-1/2 feet. Line the hole with stones from the beach. Build a fire inside of the hole and cover with rocks from the beach. Heat the stones for 2 to 3 hours.
 2. Remove coals and/or embers from the hole. Arrange hot stones evenly across the bottom of the hole. Place fresh 1/2 bushel seaweed (wet) on top of the hot stones.
 3. Working quickly layer the food on top of the seaweed, the food should be layered evenly on top of each other in the following order: clams, mussels, fish, sausage, hotdogs (wrapped in cheesecloth), onions, potatoes (white and sweet), corn, and finally lobsters.
 4. Cover food with a clean, wet cloth. Place remaining seaweed on top of cloth.

Cover entire hole of food with a wet tarpaulin, sealing the steam created by the hot stones and seaweed in. Allow a very small amount of steam to escape to relieve pressure. Let bake cook for 1 or up to 5 hours. The bake is completed when the potatoes are soft.

Serve bake with melted butter to dip the seafood in and lobster crackers.

Don't forget napkins -- you'll need 'em!

Changeover - RC of Turramurra

President Caroline attended the changeover dinner for the Rotary Club of Turramurra, submitted this photo and reported:

"They used their costumes from Macbeth (District Conference) and had the witches remove the outgoing president and the kingmakers bring in the new one. Great fun."

...maybe our club too can get back to having a bit of fun and 'loosening up' at similar functions!
