This week: Ken Zulumovski: Gamarada community healing and leadership initiatives

'Gamarada' is a men's group which emerged out of recognition of unmet needs and lost potential among men in Redfern. It is a community driven program which provides a safe way for indigenous men to come together to heal themselves and aid in the healing of others.

Traditional healing methods form the core of the program, with some eastern and western influences. Throughout the program there is also an emphasis on practical techniques, including stress and anger management and the promotion of life skills.

Ken Zulumovski, managing director of the company that runs the program, will tell us how it operates and benefits the participants and the wider community.

Last week's guests & notices

President Graham:

- Welcomed our guest speaker, Billy Cantwell;
- Announced that raffle tickets sold at the Dinners For 8 had raised $1,240 for Fijian disaster relief;
- Said that the Youth Committee, with the assistance of new member Mahiar Mahjoub, is developing a program for Year 10-12 students preparing for university, to help them understand science, technology, engineering and mathematics subjects;
- Reported that the more than 2,000 Shelterboxes had been sent to Fiji from Melbourne within 24 hours of the need arising and our club had contributed $2,000 for replacement Shelterboxes; and
- Mentioned that our club has contributed $2,000 for a new minibus for Clarke Road School (see next item).

Joy Newling urged members and their partners, family and friends (adults only) to attend 'Comedy for a Cause' (featuring comedians from the Sydney and Melbourne comedy festivals) at Pennant Hills Bowling Club, 52 Yarrara Road, Pennant Hills at 8pm on Friday, 20 May to raise funds for a new wheelchair accessible bus for Clarke Road School.

The bus will cost $120,000. The school (which has only 60 students and therefore has only a small parent body to support it) has 'crowd funded' $30,000, raised $25,000 from a 'gift fund' and received a donation of $20,000 from a business. Comedy for a Cause needs at least 150 attendees. Tickets cost $35 and can be booked at comedyforacause.net/CR.

Joy also requested donation of goods or services that can be prizes for a raffle.

Greg Newling encouraged members to attend the fundraiser for Eagles RAPS on Thursday, 21 April (see flyer later in this Koongga). He said that it will be a good night with good food and good company and Eagles RAPS desperately needs the support.

Rotary Leadership Institute

The Rotary Leadership Institute has two courses organised for later this year. This is course is of great benefit to all Rotarians, but particularly for those who will become members of their club board from 1st July.

The course is run over three days, morning tea and lunch are supplied.

The day starts at 8:30 am and should be completed around 3:45 pm.

The course is held at the District 9685 office in Sefton Road, Thornleigh.

Red Shield Appeal

Hi all

I am away at present but wish to advise that the Salvation Army Red Shield appeal will take place on Sunday, 29 May. As usual for this event I am seeking 8 members to act as team leaders on this weekend.

I will return for the club meeting on 18 April so please let me know then if you can assist.

Kind regards

Chris Hoch

Rotary raffle raises $130,000

The recent draw of the Rotary Club of Upper Northern Beaches' Community Service Appeal marked the completion of the club's 19th and most successful annual raffle.

Since September, the Rotary club and 17 local community groups have been selling $2 tickets for the grand prize, a new Nissan Micra. The proceeds from this year's ticket sales, which reached a record $130,000, will be distributed to the participating groups.

At the finale for the raffle, held at Bayview Golf Club, the prize car was on display on the clubhouse terrace. Pittwater Member of Parliament Rob Stokes drew the winner from the tickets that had been loaded into the boot of the car. Rotarian Mark Lawrie, who has been managing the raffle project for the past 15 years, then phoned the winner, a hard-working family who couldn't believe their good fortune.

Help Studio Artes rise from the ashes into their creative potential. The Studio is a place where

Studio ARTES is a leading not-for-profit service provider in Hornsby offering programs that empower people living with disability by tapping all people with any disability can participate in artistic, creative and recreational activities.

Studio ARTES has put out this appeal:

A fire may have destroyed our building, but our members' inherent creative fire is not deterred by our recent tragedy. We are ready to paint and dance our way through to recovery. But we need your help!

A fire tore through the pool shop which adjoins Studio ARTES Jersey St premises on Sunday April 3. The fire caused massive damage to our premises. Our roof has caved in, and it is doubtful we can ever re-enter the building. Artworks, filming equipment, computers, costumes - to name a few - have been lost.

Thanks to Hornsby Council we have found a temporary home at Wallarobba Arts Centre and we are on the way to finding a more permanent location. We are ready to resume our creative programs, and our members are keen to create again!

But we need immediate equipment in the form of art supplies, stationery and iPads.

We need cash donations to support us to purchase this essential equipment NOW so our members can get back to work.

$7000 to replace our critical technical equipment such as IPADS

$5000 to purchase urgent materials for our visual arts program. Your donation gives our artists immediate access to paints, paper and brushes.

$3000 for our Performance Program to purchase costumes, lighting and sound equipment

$3000 for our training program to replace sporting equipment

$3000 to cover stationery costs across programs

Your donation buys immediate materials and equipment for our members to use NOW

You can donate at www.everydayhero.com.au/event/STUDIOARTESURGENTFIREAPPEAL

RAWCS Rover April 2016

Rotary Australia World Community Service (RAWCS) Volunteers are doing some really great things to make lives more comfortable for many of our near neighbours. You can assist the program by making sure that all Rotarians know about RAWCS, in particular the Rotary Australia Benevolent Society (RABS) Program, that will allow tax deductibility for donations to projects that meet the conditions, operating in our own local communities.

If you don't know about RABS, Click here and check out the conditions. Your club might have somebody or group that could be assisted!

Here are a few of the many RABS projects presently in place. More can be found on the website www.rawcs.com.au

- To improve the living standards of homeless youth clients to Taldumande and other safe houses in Sydney and immediate areas

- To provide Welcome Packs of items to refugee families arriving in NSW.
- To provide financial & other relief for the family of 21 year old Tahlia who is suffering from Chronic Lyme Disease which causes frequent seizures. Her medications are expensive and not covered by the PBS.
- To raise funds for Dean Walsh who was seriously injured in a car accident and requires a special vehicle to get him to physiotherapy & medical attention to complete his rehabilitation.

Club social night - Friday, 6 May

Following on from an article in last week's Koongga about a play being performed at the Ku-ring-gai Town Hall, Pacific Highway, Pymble by the Epicentre Theatre group, we have tentatively arranged for a club social night to be held there on Friday 6 May. The play is Rumors by Neil Simon.

We have made a tentative booking for 24 (4 tables of 6) and it will be on a first in first served basis. A sheet will be circulated at next Monday's meeting with monies then payable at our 2 May meeting. Cost will be $35 per persons, with a percentage of this cost going to Eagles RAPS.

The play will start at 7.30pm, but patrons are encouraged to come early, bring your own dinner and byo alcohol. Seating arrangements are tables of 6.

Mendelssohn's Elijah - 22 May

May I take this opportunity to let you know about the Willoughby Symphony Choir's performance of Mendelssohn's ELIJAH at Chatswood Concourse on Sunday, 22 May at 2.00 pm.

Elijah is a magnificent piece of music, full of drama and exhilaration. We have some terrific soloists and our choir of over 100 singers will be accompanied by the Willoughby Symphony Orchestra.

We are trying to publicise this event to as many people as possible. I wonder if I could ask you to spread the word to your members who I'm sure would thoroughly enjoy this celebrated choral work.

The details are on the attached flyer.

Last meeting: Billy Cantwell: Editing the North Shore Times

Billy Cantwell has a strong connection with Sydney's north shore, since all his children were born here and his son attends St Aloysius College, Milsons Point. And after arriving from Ireland, his first job was in an aged care facility in Turrumurra. He recalled the embarrassment of the staff and residents dressing in 18th century costumes to celebrate Australia Day, 1988.

Billy established the Irish Echo newspaper for the Irish community in Australia and is proud that it is still being published 30 years later.

He is also pleased to be still editing a print newspaper. The major newspaper groups make most of their money from their print publications, rather than their electronic counterparts. Billy appreciates the technical aspects of printed newspapers and the discipline of working to deadlines.

By comparison, online journalism is much less disciplined, since there are no deadlines – stories can be posted at any time, as they arise. Despite that, he understands that online publications are the way of the future.

Billy circulated a copy of the first edition of the North Shore Times and mentioned that The Australian and the North Shore Times are the only 2 newspapers that Rupert Murdoch established. All others in the News Corp 'stable' he bought.

Billy learned the newspaper trade from compositors with a deep knowledge of layout and other skills. But the old processes were very labour intensive and inefficient. In due course they were replaced by desktop publishing and then the internet revolutionised the industry.

Billy noted that he rarely sees people reading newspapers on public transport. Instead, most people are intent on their smart phones.

There is no model for producing online news content cost-effectively. Online journalists have to write headlines with search engine optimisation in mind. Their aim is to get people to read the advertisements. Because of the 'up to the minute' nature of online publications, it is not possible for their journalists to research a story for weeks before publishing a story.

By contrast, the North Shore Times (which is a free newspaper) still works well. Many people read it in print and advertisers get a return. The paper's focus on local stories attracts readers because larger newspapers don't generally cover local stories.

Billy maintains a close connection with the community and gets over 200 emails each day in response to stories in the North Shore Times. The newspaper engages with all sorts of people in the community and wants feedback from readers. Its power is illustrated by a story on buses being late, which soon had them running on time.

The newspaper is developing digital adjuncts to the print publication, for example a mobile app 'Where I live' which publicises local events.

Billy is optimistic about the future of printed newspapers. Hard copy book sales in the USA are increasing and Amazon is opening book stores (which it previously caused to close) and the same effects are being seen with newspapers.

Next week: no meeting (ANZAC Day)

Next meeting: Katie Miller-Crispe: Creating Operantics

Operantics is a young artists company, run by and for young artists. It aims to provide opportunities for young artists who are talented but inexperienced, due to lack of opportunities to perform.

The company is primarily a platform for singers, helping them to stretch themselves and develop, especially those who are pursuing professional opera careers.

Operantics produces fresh, engaging productions, such as Così fan tutti. In 2016 it will premiere Joseph Horowitz's Gentleman's Island and Jonathan Dove's Mansfield Park.

Katie Miller-Crispe is a founder, artistic director and producer of Operantics. She holds a Bachelor of Arts and a Master of Publishing from Sydney University and a Bachelor of Music (Performance) from the Australian Institute of Music.
